

COMPLIANCE AUDITING

Introduction:

The changing business environment has resulted in the release of legislation, regulation, self-regulation, frameworks and internal policies and procedures to mitigate against fines, penalties, ensuring competitiveness and the ability to obtain contracts.

In certain instances, compliance is enforced by independent reviews, ad hoc reviews and investigations due to perceived or claimed non-compliance.

It is important for your business to be ready and be sure to provide evidence of compliance to decrease the risk of possible adverse effect.
